Goddard's teachings are based on the law of assumption, which states that we create our reality by assuming it to be true. When we believe something to be true, our subconscious mind accepts it as fact and begins to manifest it in our lives.

Goddard often spoke about the lives of Moses, Elijah, and Jesus, and how their teachings align with his principles. These three prophets were all masters of assumption, and they used their power to create miracles and change the world.

Moses

Moses was a Hebrew prophet who led the Israelites out of slavery in Egypt. He was a powerful leader and teacher, and he taught the Israelites about the law of assumption.

One of the most famous examples of Moses' use of assumption is the story of the parting of the Red Sea. When the Israelites were trapped between the Egyptians and the sea, Moses assumed that the sea would part and allow them to pass through. His belief was so strong that the sea actually parted, and the Israelites were able to escape.

Moses' story teaches us that we can overcome any obstacle if we believe that we can. When we assume that something is possible, we open ourselves up to the possibility of it happening.

Elijah

Elijah was a prophet who lived in Israel during the 9th century BC. He was a powerful teacher and miracle worker, and he taught the Israelites about the law of assumption.

One of the most famous examples of Elijah's use of assumption is the story of the widow's son. When the widow's son died, Elijah assumed that he could be brought back to life. His belief was so strong that the boy actually came back to life.

Elijah's story teaches us that we can heal ourselves and others by assuming that we are already healed. When we believe that something is possible, we open ourselves up to the possibility of it happening.

Jesus

Jesus was a Jewish teacher and healer who lived in the 1st century AD. He was a powerful teacher and miracle worker, and he taught his followers about the law of assumption.

One of the most famous examples of Jesus' use of assumption is the story of the healing of the blind man. When the blind man came to Jesus, Jesus assumed that he could be healed. His belief was so strong that the blind man actually regained his sight.

Jesus' story teaches us that we can heal ourselves and others by assuming that we are already healed. When we believe that something is possible, we open ourselves up to the possibility of it happening.

The Neville Goddard Lectures

Neville Goddard gave a series of lectures on the lives of Moses, Elijah, and Jesus. In these lectures, he explained how these prophets used the law of assumption to create miracles and change the world.

Goddard's lectures are a valuable resource for anyone who wants to learn more about the law of assumption and how to use it to create a better life.

Moses, Elijah, and Jesus were all masters of assumption. They used their power to create miracles and change the world. Their stories teach us that we can all create the life we want by assuming that it is already true.

If you want to learn more about the law of assumption, I encourage you to read Neville Goddard's lectures. His teachings can help you to create a better life for yourself and others.
