Dynamic positioning (DP) is a computer-controlled system that uses thrusters to maintain a vessel's position and heading in a fixed location, regardless of wind, waves, or currents. DP is used in a variety of applications, including offshore oil and gas drilling, production, and construction.

The following is a collection of poetic stuff about DP, including sea stories and pithy verse:

Sea Stories

The DP Operator

In the engine room's dim light,
He sits and watches the screen,
His hands on the controls tight,
Keeping the ship where it's been.

The wind howls and the waves crash,
But the ship stays steady and true,
Thanks to the DP operator,
And the thrusters that he's using too.

The DP Drill

The DP drill is a test,
Of the system's ability,
To keep the ship in place,
In any kind of sea.

The crew prepares the ship,
And then they wait for the call,
The DP operator takes control,

And the ship begins to fall.

The wind and waves pick up,

But the ship stays steady and true,

Thanks to the DP system,

And the crew that knows what to do.

Pithy Verse

DP

DP, DP, keep us in place,

No matter the wind or the waves.

The DP Operator

The DP operator is a master of his trade,

He keeps the ship steady, no matter the grade.

The DP Drill

The DP drill is a test of skill,

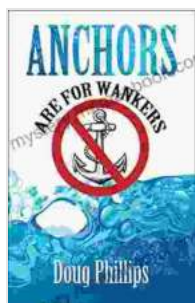

But the crew is ready, and they're ready to drill.

DP

DP, DP, you're a marvel to behold,

You keep us safe and sound, no matter the cold.

I hope you enjoyed this collection of poetic stuff about DP. If you have any DP-related sea stories or pithy verse of your own, please share them in the comments below.
